

Plate 2 Schematic model of the fluid and biological Earth that shows global change in a time scale of decades to centuries. A notable feature is the presence of human activity as a major inducer of change; humanity must also live with the results of change from both anthropogenic and natural factors. Source ESS (1986). Chapter 2.