You are in the NH. The W-E geostrophic winds at various levels are as shown below. For each height level in the plot at right, sketch the slope of the isobaric surface intersecting the black dot that is consistent with the geostrophic wind at that level. Identify the levels at which the horizontal temperature gradient vanishes.